Nepal Destruction Hits Home in Marion

By Jean Perry

Not often anymore does the devastation caused by two major earthquakes in Nepal earlier this year get coverage in the media. But even months later, efforts to alleviate the suffering of the Nepalese people and the destruction of their homes and infrastructure continue, and many have been helped so far due to the kindness of some Tri-Towners and many others.

Sally Hunsdorfer's organization "The Himalayan Project," under the umbrella of the Marion Institute and born of her passion for the people and landscape of Nepal almost 20 years ago, has continued its efforts to rebuild the small mountain village of Chaurikharka and bring relief to its people before the cold weather of October sets in.

Sally Hunsdorfer, founder of The Himalayan Project under the umbrella of support of the Marion Institute, recently returned from earthquake-devastated Nepal where her efforts to rebuild the small mountain village of Chaurikharka are underway.

Hunsdorfer was on her way to Bhutan in Southeast Asia to visit her son when she heard of the first 7.8 magnitude quake in Nepal on April 25. Panic set in, said Hunsdorfer, with an ensuing urgent concern for her friends of Chaurikharka.

"Of course we were in a state of complete shock," said Hunsdorfer. She and her husband Peter made swift contact with friends from the village via social media and were happy to hear there were no deaths to report. But everyone lost their houses, and a beloved school, for which Hunsdorfer had contributed over the years to improve, had been badly damaged.

Hunsdorfer continued on to visit with her son, but the trip was colored by what was happening in Nepal and she was already making contact with associates, soliciting donations and planning her next visit. At that point, Hunsdorfer was concerned that a spontaneous side trip to Nepal might be more of a hindrance to the people than a help, so she contacted her sources in the capital city Khathmandu and asked if the hotel was still open and if there were taxis running from the airport to the hotel – it was, and there were.

"I turned to my husband and I said, 'We have to go.'" And one week after the earthquake, the Hunsdorfers were back in Nepal.

"People were still reeling and trying to figure out their lives," Hunsdorfer said. She spoke to all who live within the 54 damaged homes in the village and they shared their woe with Hunsdorfer. "I was just so happy that I had gone because I could assess the damage. I met with every family and, of course, every family wanted to put their life out there to me."

The Hunsdorfers photographed each destroyed home and, along with a village council, assessed the financial needs of the community. They returned to Kathmandu on May 12 to begin efforts to rebuild the village when, suddenly, that day, the second earthquake struck the village, destroying what was left standing, including the school that was just days ago salvageable. The soonest Hunsdorfer could return to Chaurikharka was in mid-July, and she returned to villagers living and learning beneath makeshift tents, tarps, and small structures made from the salvaged tin roof of the school – tiny tin classrooms that simply will not do once the weather turns cold in a matter of weeks.

"And I was just heartbroken because I saw a school that didn't exist anymore," said Hunsdorfer. "When the cold weather sets in, they need something more permanent."

With the help of the Marion Institute, Hunsdorfer made contact with donors for the relief project and the response was amazing.

"I was very anxious to be timely about contacting people on a regular basis," said Hunsdorfer. "I was just so shocked and blown away by how generous people were."

Together with her community and associates, Hunsdorfer raised $145,000 for immediate relief. She said people had wanted to contribute to the Nepal disaster but were wary of the international aid agencies where just pennies on the dollar actually make it to the people who need it the most. Of the billions in aid, said Hunsdorfer, government officials have skimmed about 25 percent from the top.

"But we managed to get every single penny over there and distributed it to everybody who needed it," said Hunsdorfer. "I have big plans ... to raise $500,000 for the school to be rebuilt." An earthquake-resistant school this time, she added.

"There's always something good that rises from the ashes," said Hunsdorfer.

Mattapoissett's Connection To Alaska

By Marilou Newell

On a balmy August 6 evening, a group of people sat next to the gazebo in Shipyard Park and listened to Seth Mendell as he spoke nearly extemporaneously for 45 minutes sharing the history of Captain Charles Bryant. Mendell, a well-known local historian and past president of the Mattapoissett Historical Society, gave one of his last lectures for the summer season.

Bryant's life, as told by Mendell, is the stuff of which fiction is made. From the farm to the marbled halls of Congress, from the fields of Rochester to the turbulent oceans of the world, from south sea island maidens to the frozen vastness of the great northwest and beyond, Mendell took his audience there. But this was not, and is not, fiction. Bryant's life was adventure, was danger, was impactful, and helped to expand the boundaries of our nation.

Bryant was born in 1820, one of seven children on a farm near Witch Rock in Rochester. As a young boy, he shouldered his fair share of farm chores, including taking produce in a horse-drawn cart down to market in Mattapoissett's harbor.

Mendell asked the listeners to imagine those times. The smell of freshly sawn lumber would have filled the air as shipbuilders clamored from stem to stern over boats being built along the water's edge. The sounds of hammers and voices intermingled creating a type of music and excitement by which a young boy like Bryant would be influenced.

Thus it was that Bryant at an early age "fell in love with all that was happening at the water's edge," as Mendell described it. With 37 working boats shipping out of Mattapoissett in the 1800s, with a working customs office, with the ebb and flow of people, Bryant would hear stories of far-away places that excited his young mind with adventures to be had. Bryant shipped out for the first time when he was 20 years old. That first trip would not only change him; it would also change the course of America's expansion.

For the next several decades, Bryant would work on whaling ships traveling the globe. From Polynesian islands to the cold frontiers of Alaska and beyond, Bryant saw the world and experienced exotic cultures first hand. He also moved up the ranks within the sailing hierarchy, from a mere seaman to the captain his own ship.

These experiences, especially those along the Aleutian Islands and into the Bering Sea, allowed Bryant to see for himself the great natural wealth the region held. But Russia had known this for decades.

Russian hunters had long known the value of these frozen lands and had established colonies along the coast in support of a rich fur trade. Yet for Russia's tsar, that wasn't enough.

By the time Bryant beheld the wonders of the northern climes, Russia was struggling to sustain itself from conflicts with England. In spite of the wealth its hunters were exporting from Alaska and the surrounding territories, the tsar was eager to sell it off.

Through four U.S. administrations, the government had tried to put together deals to purchase the landmass. But lack of interest by Congress, ignorance of the vast wealth, and the potential security importance of the area impeded any deal being made.

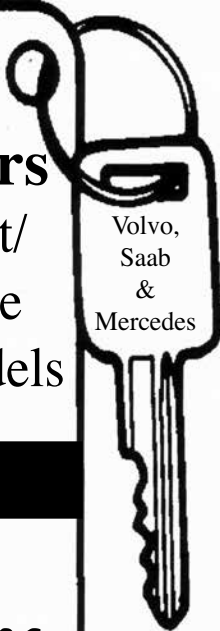

In the meantime, Bryant had retired from whaling, returned to his much beloved port-of-call, and had settled down on his own farm in East Fairhaven with his wife, Anna, and began to enjoy a quiet domestic lifestyle. That wouldn't last for long.

One of Bryant's contemporaries was Senator Charles Sumner. Sumner knew of Bryant's travels. Both Sumner and Secretary of State William Seward prevailed on Bryant to speak to Congress about the richness of the Alaskan territory. Bryant was invited to Washington to tell the senators everything he knew about Alaska. It would be many years before he would return to this area – so needed were his talents by the post-Civil War government.

Bryant's testimony was persuasive and led to the purchase of Alaska from Russia for $7.2 million. He was named "territory administrator" and worked under the arm of the Treasury Department. His duties would require him to live in the region, forge regulations to remove Russian hunters, and mindful harvesting of seals and other animals, as well as the building of schools, hospitals and libraries as the U.S. colonized its new lands.

By 1878, Bryant was back to the gentle harbor he so loved, returning again to farming and purchasing waterfront property, and he became an innkeeper of the Bayside Tavern. That building is now known as the Inn at Shipyard Park.

Locally, Bryant remained involved in public service as a member of the school board. He could be seen walking the village streets of Mattapoisett in the winter wearing a great heavy cape he had used in Alaska – once a small boy on the farm, now a man of wealth and fame.

Several towns claim Bryant as their own: Rochester, where he was born and is buried at Sherman Cemetery; Mattapoisett, where he worked and from where he shipped; and Fairhaven, where he farmed. But, as far as Mendell is concerned, "We have the best claim on him because he loved our waterfront."

Selectmen Approve Special Town Meeting Warrant

Marion Board of Selectmen

By Jean Perry

The Marion Board of Selectmen closed the Special Fall Town Meeting warrant on September 8 and approved the five articles, with one potential article to be taken off the following day. The Special Town Meeting is scheduled for October 26.

One article, Article S5, according to Town Administrator Paul Dawson, will likely disappear from the warrant as of the next day when he receives written confirmation that damage caused by a July rainstorm that flooded three town buildings will be covered by insurance.

The article, submitted by the facilities manager, would have covered the $12,000 in damages and costs accrued during the cleanup, which Dawson said was a significant hit to the facilities line item of the budget.

"It won't even be on the warrant if I get that written confirmation tomorrow," said Dawson.

Article S1 on the warrant pertains to a prior 2013 Town Meeting vote that authorized the Town of Marion to collect water bills from out-of-town resident water consumers. The original article, explained Dawson, lacked specific language that would formally accept the statute, and this special article would correct the situation.

Article S2 would appropriate $10,000 for gypsy moth and winter moth aerial spraying should a spring 2016 outbreak arise. The funding request, submitted by the tree warden, would be expended only if needed, and the funds would come from the free cash treasury.

Article S3 is the ambulance article that was passed over at the 2015 Annual Town Meeting. The article would appropriate $241,000 to purchase a new emergency ambulance for use by the Fire/EMS Department. Dawson noted that the Special Town Meeting article is $4,000 higher than the previous town meeting article, accounting for an increase in the quoted price of the vehicle.

Article S4 would approve the transfer of $50,000 from the treasury to be used as the Town's required contribution toward a grant totaling $200,000 from the Buzzards Bay and Narragansett Estuary Programs as part of the Town's ongoing program of sewer-related improvements.

"This is a grand opportunity where the Town could receive $200,000 in grant money opportunities for the town," said Dawson. "This is really just a placeholder that allows us to appropriate the funds."

Also, Dawson asked residents of the town to not read too deeply into the omission of an article on the warrant that would address the plowing of private roadways.

"This is one of those articles ... that can be overrun over the course of the year," Dawson stated. He explained that it would be better practice to simply make a funds transfer request during the Special Town Meeting to be held during the Annual Town Meeting to cover the cost of the snow and ice removal of eligible private roadways that meet certain criteria for plowing, such as wide enough roads and the pruning back of low overhead hanging branches that could damage equipment.

Dawson advised that selectmen hold a discussion with Department of Public Works Superintendent Rob Zora during the next meeting for further clarification.

Also during the September 8 meeting, selectmen met with Board of Health Chairman Albin Johnson regarding a request to add a sewer connection on Point Road, despite a general moratorium on new sewer connections in town. Johnson said this particular new development would be positioned exactly near an existing sewer line, saying, "We prefer to have them tie in to the town sewer now, rather than later."

Selectmen Chairman Stephen Cushing recommended tabling the discussion until the next meeting so Zora could attend and shed further light on the subject.

The next meeting of the Marion Board of Selectmen is scheduled for September 22 at 7:00 pm at the Marion Town House.

2 that a report on area school bus inspection failures sounded worse than the situation actually was.

State school bus inspections conducted back in August, said Spencer, resulted in a 50 percent failure rate for school transportation company Braga Transportation Cozy Bus Co., Inc., the company that services Old Rochester Regional schools and Tri-Town district schools; however, the bus transportation company has other offices other than the Mattapoisett division, specifically in Fall River. Spencer said the fail rate for the Fall River division was higher than Mattapoisett, which is under different management.

Spencer said Tri-Town school district's contract with the bus company has a clause that limits the age of busses used to transport students, while Fall River has no such clause in its contract.

During August inspections, 12 of the 28 busses failed, according to Spencer, but 10 of the 12 failed busses had only minor problems such as a flat tire or loose exhaust clamps that were swiftly rectified, bringing the busses up to passing.

"We take the safety of the kids very seriously," said Spencer. "These inspections are done three times a year, and the purpose of these inspections is to find problems, big or small. Because you fail doesn't mean you're in bad shape; it just means you have to fix what's wrong, and everything was fixed."

All busses were fully functioning and passed inspection by the start of the school year on Tuesday, September 1. The next state inspections will be conducted in December or January, followed by another in late spring.

"I just wanted the full disclosure, and come out and clarify what's going on," said Spencer. "We are aware of what's going on and we're on top of it."

Also during the September 3 school committee meeting, Superintendent Doug White said there are now about 350 Chromebook tablets at Sippican School, one for every student from grade 3 to grade 6. The district is leasing the 1:1 devices for three years, and at the end of the lease the district will own the Chromebooks, priced at $265 each.

The committee voted to amend the format of its agenda for meetings by moving action items to the top of the agenda and placing administrative updates farther down it.

Spencer, during his fiscal year 2015 closing update, announced a $119,000 surplus from FY15, roughly 2 percent of the budget.

"Which is pretty much what you try to do each year. A two-percent savings is what you shoot for," said Spencer. "You don't want too much or too little.... You want to have some sort of leeway in case something [unexpected] happens."

The next meeting of the Marion School Committee is scheduled for October 7 at 6:30 pm at the Marion Town House.

Hartley expressed concern over the posting of a new kindergarten teacher position at Rochester Memorial School over the summer before the School Committee was contacted for approval.

During the September 3 meeting, Hartley brought up a discussion about the district's policy for hiring new positions, and Superintendent Doug White addressed her concern.

Before the start of the school year, White said the administration began researching how it could hire a new kindergarten teacher to fill a sudden opening. The position was posted, however, before a School Committee meeting could be held, White acknowledged. In response, Hartley referred to the new position policy by memory recollection.

"It was at least implied that the positions are officially presented and identified and created by the School Committee," said Hartley. "Therefore, the School Committee should know before any positions are ... posted." There is always the case of an emergency, said Hartley, "But in this case, it was not an emergency."

White assured Hartley that, in the future, he would approach similar situations "in an honest and respectful way," and to make sure it never happens again. He said there was no intent to keep the committee uninformed of the new position, but he said he understands the confusion it has caused.

"Here on out, nothing will be posted until there's an approval from the School Committee," White said. School Committee Chairman Tina Rood added, specifically, "For a new position."

White said the position was added after the fiscal year 2016 budget was finalized and before a School Committee meeting was held to discuss the matter.

"The bump in the road is when we can't communicate with the community in this case," said Hartley. "So that causes difficulty."

Rood replied, "It's unusual, the summer is a very unusual time for all of us. It's not a time we generally meet."

School Committee member Jennifer Kulak acknowledged that, although the adopted policy was not followed, she did not interpret as great a concern as Hartley did.

"We are in the luxury at this age of electronic communication," said Hartley, "so just to encourage all of us to use electronic communication as best we can ... just to ensure we all know things."

Also during the meeting, just as he had explained to Marion residents and School Committee

Excessive Thirst

My dog is a 10 year old mutt. He has been drinking a lot more water for the past 6 months. At first I thought it was because the house was dry in the winter, but now I'm not so sure. Is this a problem?

A change in the water consumption habits of either a dog or cat can be an important sign of illness. There are about 15 different disorders such as diabetes, kidney disease, and some hormonal problems that may present initially as increased thirst or excessive urination. It is very important to discuss a change in your pets water consumption with your veterinarian as a delay in diagnosis may result in a more severe illness.

members the night before, School Business Administrator Patrick Spencer told Rochester residents and the School Committee that inspection reports on the district's school bus transportation company Braga Transportation appeared more serious than they actually were.

A 50 percent fail rate for the school bus transportation company seems high, explained Spencer, but factor in that the Fall River division office had a higher rate of failure of its bus fleet than Rochester and the urgency diminishes somewhat. A Braga division in Mattapoisett services Rochester Public Schools, said Spencer, which is under a different management than Fall River.

Of the 28 busses at the Mattapoisett division, 12 failed, but 10 of those failed busses had only minor problems that were fixable before the state inspector left the scene.

"I don't take any failure lightly," said Spencer, "but there were some minor [issues] ... and all busses passed the inspection within a couple days."

All busses were within acceptable range before the first day of school on September 1, and Spencer said he was comfortable with the results.

"Our main concern is the safety of our students, and to make sure all busses on the road are up to code and are safe," said Spencer. "I don't want people to be nervous or not know what's going on.... We're aware of it and we're on top of it and all the busses have passed inspection."

The next meeting of the Rochester School Committee is scheduled for October 1 at 6:30 pm at the Rochester Town Hall.

Even before classes begin, the campus is alive with students. International students, Global Partners (who help show new international students around), and Proctors arrive early to settle in and get preparations underway for the start of a new year. Pre-season athletes, too, arrive at Tabor first – a week before the rest of the students – to try out for teams and begin training together for the season. The students all keep busy, too, as each team practices twice a day. With JV and Varsity teams of girls' and boys' soccer, field hockey, football, and girls' and boys' cross-country, 192 of 516 Tabor students are pre-season athletes.

Sports are a big part of life at Tabor, and many dedicate much of their time and energy to their sports. Many feel that their experiences on Tabor sports teams are some of their favorite high school memories. Hannah Dawicki, one of the captains of the girls' varsity soccer team, believes that the most special aspects of Tabor athletics are the coaches, who "provide that extra boost of confidence and fire that we need to win," and her teammates, because "playing with such passionate girls is always fun."

Dawicki has been on varsity soccer since her freshman year, and next year she is off to play soccer at St. John's University, a Division 1 school. While the jump from playing sports in high school and college can be a big one, Dawicki says, "Tabor has prepared me for playing soccer in college because, by having played with older girls the past three years, I've learned that, as a player, it's my job to work as hard as I can on and off the field and to put everything I have into my team."

Her experience with Tabor sports is similar to that of many others. Whether the captain or a JV player who is trying it out for fun, many students find that teams at Tabor have a built-in sense of community and are full of dedicated and talented athletes. Fall teams enjoyed an excellent season last year, with many teams advancing to the final rounds of competition. This year, many teams hope for similar success as they welcome new athletes and welcome back returning team members.

With the new school year, there is much to look forward to. While some, like Dawicki, anticipate the start of their favorite sports season, others can't wait to get back to their friends, their passions, or what they consider their second home. Seniors are bent on appreciating everything before they leave, knowing that all too soon their Tabor experience will be over. Nicole McLaughlin, a senior, says she is most excited to spend time with all her friends and finish strong.

"Tabor has provided me with opportunities that other schools aren't able to," said McLaughlin, "so I'm really going to miss that." For many, McLaughlin added, Tabor is a place to explore your passions and try new things. Since transferring in her sophomore year, she has become captain of the dance team for fall and spring, as well as developed a strong love for ceramics.

McLaughlin's story is not an uncommon one.

Many students arrive at Tabor thinking that they are one thing – an athlete or an academic or an artist – only to try out something new and fall in love with it. Thomas Kelly, a senior, is also an avid ceramicist. He looks forward to this year so that he can get back to the studio and "progress his work from last year," said Kelly.

"You have the freedom to take the skills you've learned and test them," said Kelly. "It's really fun to try out new techniques and learn from both the teachers and your peers."

Many students had never had the chance to work so closely with clay and develop their passion for it, but every year more and more leave with a greater appreciation for the arts at Tabor.

The start of the new school year is always an adjustment. The Class of 2015 has graduated, and the Class of 2016 is left to step into their shoes, taking over leadership positions and assuming their role as the oldest students on campus. Meanwhile, a whole new freshman class enters the student body, as well as many new faculty members to replace the ones who retired or left for graduate school last year. Not only will there be quite a few new faces on campus, but the campus itself also has a new addition.

When students departed in June, Matsumura dorm was still just an idea, a framework and a construction site. Now, students will arrive to see a large, finished, and beautiful dorm.

Mr. Becker, the dorm parent in Matsumura this year, said, "Matsumura house has lots of great features which I think the guys are going to love." The dorm is for upperclassmen boys and has water bottle filling stations on both floors and a kitchen that Mr. Becker anticipates will be "great for dorm parties or group study."

In addition to this kitchen, there's a quiet study room in which students are free to work. As an alternative to the current laundry room, there are washers and dryers in Matsumura, as well as a basement where students can store sports equipment.

According to Mr. Becker, "The architect, Will Saltonstall, wanted there to be a lot of natural light and, as a result, the building is very energy efficient and the many windows are great."

As students return to the Tabor that they know and love, they'll be greeted by a lot of familiar faces and places, as well as a few new ones. Almost immediately, they'll have lots to do. New students settle in as returning students get back to work. The fields fill with athletes, the studios with artists, and the classes with students, all ready to take on a brand new year of everything Tabor has to offer.

Community Journalism Opportunities

The Wanderer is actively seeking community journalists, student writers, and experienced photographers to join our team delivering news and stories of interest from Mattapoisett, Marion, and Rochester to the Tri-Town area.

As a community news correspondent, you will spend time attending the various meetings of a variety of town boards and committees, taking notes during these meetings, and writing a story about the meeting. Stories may require follow-up information gathering, fact checking, and further interviews.

Community journalism also includes attending some of the many activities, events, and fine arts performances in the three towns for stories, as well as putting together stories from interviews with the fascinating people in your neighborhood who are doing interesting things that the public should know about.

Do you know a high school student who enjoys writing and has a nose for news? Our student correspondents deliver the readers the scoop on what is happening at Old Rochester Regional High School, and we are also looking to add an Old Colony student correspondent to The Wanderer.

Photographers are often assigned weekend events to cover and may, at times, be required to gather names of subjects in the photos.

Writing experience is preferred, but not required. Photographers should be experienced and ready to use their own equipment. You should have your own transportation and be available for evening meetings. Accuracy is important, as well as a firm grasp of the English language and grammar. Pay is negotiable and could increase with experience.

This will be a busy year for our club members as we review our very successful summer fundraising, continue our research into the history of our almost 75 years of organization, participate in our varied interest groups, and plan our upcoming summer garden tour, Taste of the Town, Pie Sale and anniversary celebrations.

We encourage you to join us; be our guest for a delicious, informal luncheon while chatting with new acquaintances and renewing old friendships. Learn about our upcoming programs and small-group activities. Our monthly programs include talks about art; the Underground Railroad; travels around the globe; Plymouth County Corrections, past and present; and the south coast's roseate tern population.

Whether your interests lie in bridge, book discussions, Great Decisions programs, gardening, knitting or something else, you'll find others enthusiastically sharing ideas and welcoming newcomers. These small groups meet at various times during the month and provide a great way to make new friends and improve a skill or hobby.

We welcome interested residents of all nearby towns to our meetings. You do not have to be a Mattapoisett resident to be a part of our Woman's Club.

Please come; we'd love to have you be a part of our growing Woman's Club. Questions, to reserve a spot, or ask for a ride, call Barb at 508-864-5213.

Coincidentally, our speaker for the evening will be Cal Perkins, Frank's father-in-law. ### A Celebration Of Our Fair Lady In Marion

Many energetic, fascinating and generous women have been remembered in charming Broadway musicals: "Unsinkable Molly Brown," "Evita" and even "Annie Get Your Gun." Now, the Marion Music Hall's 125th anniversary celebration will feature our town's extraordinary Mrs. Elizabeth Taber in a concert musical, "Our Fair Lady."

Kim Teves, a soprano actress with a local and New York "bio," will sing the role of Elizabeth with Carl Denney in the cameo role as Clark Howland, the first headmaster of Tabor Academy. The Occasion Singers – a polished, professional Octave directed by Ms. Cassandra Morgan – will bring stunning close harmony to the lyrics that tell the story of the village folks, then and now. Performances even include a song about our technically savvy children, three generations since the Mrs. Taber Era.

The Music Hall itself was donated and endowed by Elizabeth Taber, along with The Library, the Natural

Carrington Medals On Display

The Sippican Historical Society recently received the military medals of long-time Marion resident, George W. Carrington. Upon his death, Carrington's good friend, John P. Kendall of Marion, received the colonel's medals, which Mr. Kendall had framed and then donated to the Society. The Sippican Historical Society has hung the medals, along with Col. Carrington's obituary, in its Museum.

Col. Carrington was born on January 5, 1921 and died February 21, 2015. He graduated from Yale University in 1942, after which he began an illustrious career in the United States Marine Corps. He fought in the Pacific theatre during WWII, where he received many medals including the Bronze Star Medal and the Purple Heart. He also received medals for his service in the Korean and Viet Nam Wars.

After his military career, he earned a Doctorate in Chinese History from Oxford University in England. He also wrote many books and served as Dean of Faculty at the Marine Military Academy. The Sippican Historical Society invites the community to visit its Museum and to view the impressive collection of Col. Carrington's medals.

The Sippican Woman's Club will open its club season on Friday, September 11. Local author and historian Peggi Medeiros will "talk walk" us down New Bedford's 19th Century County Street. In her recently published book New Bedford Mansions, Medeiros describes the period as a time of unimaginable wealth, intellectual ferment and artistic treasures. It was a city of secrets that often became very public scandals that destroyed lives and families. A book signing will follow her talk.

Our September program will be held at Handy's Tavern, 152 Front Street, Marion at 12:30 pm. Programs are normally held at Handy's Tavern on the second Friday of the month (September - March) at 12:30 pm. Each program is preceded by a finger-food luncheon, tea/coffee and a sweet, followed by a short business meeting and a program. As usual, our November meeting will be off site on Saturday, November 21. The 29th Holiday House Tour will be on Saturday, December 11 and the Annual Meeting and Luncheon is on Friday, April 29, 2016.

South Coast Summer Bike Challenge

The official tallies have not yet been released, but Mattapoisett and Fairhaven are at the top of the leaderboard in the South Coast Summer Bike Challenge and in the Massachusetts Bike Challenge as well. Mattapoisett men and women putting in a strong showing include Marc Anderson, Gary Johnson, Jack Hiller, Steve Estevez, Lisa Winsor, Kim Deleo, and Becky Lockwood. Marc, however, has led the Mattapoisett team by logging more than 4000 miles over the course of the summer. See if that is enough to beat out his Fairhaven challenger for the most miles ridden by a South Coast bikeway Alliance team member. Please come out to the YMCA Fall Family festival at the Dartmouth YMCA on September 19 to see if Mattapoisett will be able to take the trophy for most miles per capita from last year's winner (Fairhaven.) The ceremony will begin at 11:00 am at 276 Gulf Road, Dartmouth. A 15-mile bike ride to the ceremony starts at 9:00 am from Depot Street. a new fall program to Tri-Town residents in Grades 3-8. Former Junior High coach and alumni ORR field hockey player Kayla Souza will run an instructional clinic and fall field hockey league for Tri-Town children in Grades 3-8. The field hockey season kicks off on September 22 at Silvershell Beach fields in Marion.

Come see what it's all about at our introductory clinics on Tuesday, September 15 and Wednesday, September 16 from 6:00 - 7:00 pm at Silvershell Beach Fields. To kick off the program, we are offering free clinics to come and meet the coaches and learn a little bit about the sport. ORR Varsity field hockey players will be there to run the warm up and help with drill stations and practice. Please bring shin guards and mouth guard. There will be two age divisions: Grades 3-5 & Grades 6-8.

Players who register for the season will receive a Longstreth camp package that includes a pinny, ball, lanyard, water bottle and backpack. Sticks can be borrowed for the clinic and ordered for the season through South Coast Sport & Consignment. Clinics will be on Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 5:30 - 7:00 pm at Silvershell Beach Fields. Drill sessions will be followed by games. Program runs September 22 - November 10 and the cost is $80. Register for field hockey through MATTREC at www.mattrec.net or through Marion

MNHM Fall Programs

It's time for school and we at the Marion Natural History Museum have our new Fall/Winter 2015 afterschool programs ready to go.

September 16: Netting Program. While the water is still warm, let's collect some animals to keep in the tank for the winter. We will meet at the Marion Harbormaster's office to talk about our local fish and marine invertebrates. Then we'll use the museum's seining net to explore what we can find in our waters. Please plan to get wet and wear beach shoes.

September 30: Bird Migrations. Justin and Jess Barrett of the Nasketucket Bird Club will come in to discuss the migrations of some of our favorite bird residents. We will look at photos and examine some of the birds in the museum's collection.

October 7: Bird Island Trip. It's a half day, so let's go have some fun with the Marion Harbormaster. We'll take a trip to Bird Island if the weather cooperates, and if not, then a Harbor cruise. Please register as soon as possible to ensure your child a spot. Space is limited. Time of program is 2:00 pm, and we will meet at the Marion Harbormaster's office.

October 21: Let's look at the soil under our feet. Natural Resource Conservation Service scientist Maggie Payne will speak about our local soils. We will use the museum's soil tunnel and do some experimenting, so please plan to get dirty!

October 28: Changing Colors of Fall with artist/naturalist Tricia Cassidy. We will examine the colors of fall in and around Marion and work with watercolors to develop our own pieces of artwork expressing these colors.

Cost for all programs is $6 for members, $8 for nonmembers. All programs start at 3:30 pm unless otherwise noted. To register, please go to www.marionmuseum.org, fill out the registration and submit with payment. See you soon!

Adult Classes

Watercolor Painting for Adult Beginners: Thursdays, 10:00 am to noon for eight weeks from September 24 to November 19 (Note: No class on November 5). Tuition: $180 members / $195 non-members (supplies not included). Instructor: Patricia White. Note: This course requires a minimum of five students to run.

This course is designed for people who would like to try watercolor painting, but do not know where to start. Students will explore different techniques, while working on the landscape, still life, figurative, and/or imaginative painting, in a nurturing environment. Participants should bring to the first class whatever supplies they have on hand. A suggested Beginner's Supply List will be available at the first class.

Advanced Watercolor Painting: Fridays, 10:00 am to 12:00 noon with instructor Jay Ryan. Tuition: $175 members / $190 non-members (materials not included). This course requires a minimum of five students to run.

This course is a perfect "next step" for those who would like to explore watercolor painting beyond a basic understanding of color and brush strokes. Using the brilliant nature of light (and dark), we'll "push" the medium, adding other water media, brushes, and paper surfaces, and experiment with palette color mixing to capture magic and luminosity. In each class we will start a new painting together using landscape, still life, the figure, abstract or imaginative thought, or narrative ideas as subjects. Each class will also provide a brief and supportive group "critique." Students will leave with expanded knowledge of technique and traditional and contemporary use of watercolor.

Children's Classes

MAC's goal is that young people develop their own unique creative voice, their imagination, and their understanding of drama and its role in society. We look forward to soaring with your young star as they experience new adventures and challenges through our performing arts offerings and take their next step as an actor and a person!

Little People's Theater (ages 6-9): Tuesdays 4:30 - 5:30 pm; Instructor: Kim Teves; Tuition: Each six-week session is $80 for MAC members and $95 for non-members. Minimum of five students required for this class to run.

The deadline for registration for Fall Session 1 is September 8. In this class, students will use their bodies, voices, and found objects to create another world full of fantastic beings that are wacky and spooky and everything in between. Through storytelling, theatre games and creative play, our youngest actors will experience the joys of stretching their imaginations. Each week, the children will learn basic theater craft through drama games, readers' theater and experience the fun of the stage while rehearsing for a small production to be performed the last day of each session. Sign up with a friend and have twice the fun!

BBAHFH Home Build Underway

Buzzards Bay Area Habitat for Humanity's (BBAHFH) Marion home build is underway! Our first volunteer group came out this past weekend. We were thankful to have the support of the community and feel fortunate to have the opportunity to build our first Habitat home in Marion.

The 1,156 square foot Energy Star rated cottage-style home is attractive, keeping with the town's character, while helping maintain affordability. The home will be built on a lot that is less than half an acre.

Habitat has previously demolished an existing structure on the town's parcel of land where the property will be preserved as open space with access to walking trails for recreational use by the community. The land will be permanently preserved, protecting the wildlife habitat and nature preserves on the land. Once construction of the home is complete, the house will be counted toward the town's affordable housing.

Our affiliate is grateful to the local subcontractors that have donated their time and expertise over the years. We have already received an outpour of support from those willing to join with us in our mission to bring people together to build homes, communities and hope. We are overwhelmed by the abundance of generosity from these local companies that have donated their services for our Marion home. Without their contributions, Habitat would not be able to build homes at an affordable price for local families in need.

If you would like to volunteer, please let us know which date(s) you would prefer from the weekends of September 5 through November 8. We build on Saturdays from 8:30 am to 4:00 pm and on Sundays from 12:00 to 5:00 pm, and we need professional and skilled leaders as well as "handymans-willing-to-learn" for each weekend.

Our volunteers will be hungry and thirsty! We need volunteers, groups or restaurants interested in supplying coffee / donut break, lunch / drinks, snacks and water / ice for our hard workers. If you are interested in supplying refreshments for our workers, please call the office at 508-758-4517.

The project address is 185 Wareham Road in Marion. Volunteers may park in the lot behind the Seahorse Seafood plaza which is two properties to the left of the plaza.

Our homes are built with a community of kindness. We are thankful for the support from the Marion Community Preservation Committee, Cove Charitable Trust, Travelers, and local church groups that have made this build possible, and to all the volunteers who donate their time to work alongside a family while they are achieving their dream of homeownership.

For additional photos and to follow the Habitat build, please like us on Facebook at <https://www.facebook.com/BuzzardsBayHabitat>.

YMCA Afterschool Program

When the school day ends, children need opportunities to learn and engage in meaningful activities. Their success out of school can have a positive effect on their success in school. Unfortunately, one in four U.S. children is left unsupervised after 3:00 pm, according to Afterschool Alliance, a nonprofit public awareness advocacy organization. To help youth reach their full potential, YMCA Southcoast is offering afterschool programming that supports social-emotional, cognitive and physical development.

The Y's afterschool program offers activities in a caring and safe environment where all youth can achieve, feel like they belong, and build friendships. Youth in Y afterschool programs demonstrate improvement in the skills needed for successful living and in academic proficiency. As a leading nonprofit committed to youth development and a pioneer in afterschool programs, the Y believes in supporting the holistic processes that all youth experience – from birth to career – to support success in school and life.

"When the final school bell rings, continued learning opportunities can have a positive influence on how well youth perform in school," said Kathleen Treglia, Executive Director of Education for YMCA Southcoast. "Afterschool programs also fill gaps in schools and communities where some recreational opportunities like art, music and physical activity offerings are limited."

Studies show participation in afterschool programs helps boost school attendance and academic performance and reduces gaps in academic achievement among children from disadvantaged households.

YMCA Southcoast afterschool programs offer homework help, a healthy snack, a balanced educational curriculum and an opportunity for recreational activities in the Y pool, gym, sports fields and climbing walls. The

3 Generations working together in local family business!

REGAL HOUSE, a privately owned furniture store first opened it's doors in 1988 at Kings Highway Plaza in New Bedford Ma. It was founded by Albino and Maria Santos, their son ,the late Steven Santos and daughter Debra Santos Holden.

In 1991 due to their growing success, Regal House started to look for additional warehouse space. They found what they were looking for at 965 Church St. and the building and land were purchased to accompany the need for warehouse space. In 1993 they increased the building size at 965 Church St. to 40,000+ square feet and the showroom and warehouse came together under the same roof.

REGAL HOUSE is much more than a retail furniture store today. On site certified interior designers are available to assist customers in the showrooms or at their home, (yes still making house calls) bringing the latest in designs, fashion trends, colors, upholstery and fabrics. They also assist in paint selection, area rugs, and new this year custom window treatments.

Today, you can spot three generations, Maria, Debra and Paige (while on summer break from college), working throughout the store. They are proud of their 27 years and staff of over 23 local employees which include their own in house delivery team.

So please if you've never visited REGAL HOUSE FURNITURE, please stop by and discover for yourself how a hard working and dedicated staff have been able to sustain a local business for three generations. If you have visited in the past, please come in and see what is new and the changes we have made. Most importantly to our many loyal returning customers, We Thank You Very Much.

MOVIE REVIEW

She Made Me Do It

By Rob Gonsalves
www.robsmovievault.com

Madam Satan (1930). Starring Kay Johnson and Reginald Denny. Directed by Cecil B. DeMille. Running time: 116 minutes.

Pre-code Hollywood films tend to be over-the-top, and the one that sails highest over is generally agreed to be Cecil B. DeMille's 1930 wonder Madam Satan. Granted, it takes an hour and fifty-six minutes to tell a story that could be told in ten; bloat was ever DeMille's weakness. But bloat can also encompass other, zestier forms of excess. Madam Satan treads water for about its first hour, but then we board a zeppelin for 1930's most ostentatious costume party, and pretty much all is forgiven. It becomes something of a squarer American version of Fritz Lang's Metropolis, with singing and dancing and, I'm sure, plenty of illicit sex in the dark nooks and crannies of the dirigible. We don't see the orgies, of course, but we can certainly infer them, as audiences just emerging from the Roaring Twenties likely did.

We begin with marital tension: husband Bob (Reginald Denny) returns home with his friend Jimmy (Roland Young) after a night of painting the town red. We're to believe that Bob, whose wife Angela (Kay Johnson) is a bit too cold for his taste, has been doing the Humpty Dance with bad girl Trixie (Lillian Roth). But judging from the way Bob and Jimmy engage in a mostly clothed shower together, gradually disrobing each other, the competition Angela has to worry about isn't Trixie. Homosexuality was notoriously coded in pre-code movies, though I wonder if DeMille or his two (female) screenwriters had that remotely in mind. It was a more "innocent" time, after all, and sometimes a cigar is just a cigar, and sometimes two men showering together is just two men showering together.

Anyway, we spend an awful lot of time on the Bob/Trixie/Angela triangle, with heavily overextended farce involving Trixie pretending to be Jimmy's wife when the suspicious Angela comes to visit and decides to stay the night, and so on. It's not terrible, but one does twitch impatiently, waiting for the good stuff to hurry up and get here. The stodgy Angela swears to the crassly disdainful Trixie (sounds like Gollum's "tricksy") that she'll heat up her act to win back Bob's heart and libido. As if on cue, the film's second half arrives, along with the dirigible and a character called Electricity who seems to rule the evening; perhaps we can number Madam Satan among David Lynch's influences.

The spectacle that follows isn't exactly Busby Berkeley. DeMille plants his camera in front of a lot of people dancing, and for the most part there's no pattern or choreography to it. It's just teeming movement. More excitement and amusement can be found when various women are introduced to the other partygoers, each getting a chance to show off her outrageous get-up. Women, I reflected, no longer get opportunities to slip into insane, shiny, wonderful costumes in movies; even the outfits in Maleficent and Snow White and the Huntsman leaned towards the grimdark. The closest we've come recently was the flappers in The Great Gatsby. The most aggressively batty costume of all, of course, adorns the mysterious Madam Satan, who is, obviously to us and to no one else, Angela in disguise (and using a thick Hollywood idea of ze French accent). Bob doesn't recognize his wife, perhaps under the Batman principle that a person's nose and chin are insufficient prompts for identification as long as the mask has pointy ears or pointy horns.

It all builds up to a thunderstorm, courtesy of our buddy Electricity I guess, that severs the zeppelin from its moorings and endangers all aboard. So what begins as marital uptightness about infidelity shades into bitter, jealous mask-wearing at an orgiastic bash of one-percenters before sliding into apocalypse -- Madam Satan, I was delighted to discover, was Eyes Wide Shut seventy years early. Could Kubrick's swan song owe as much to DeMille as to Schnitzler? Regardless, the revellers float gently from harm to land (or water) via parachutes, thanks to special effects that, considering their vintage, aren't half bad. Madam Satan was an expensive flop, and its sportive star Kay Johnson, a DeMille protégée, didn't enjoy much of a career when all was said and done. (Co-star Lillian Roth, of I'll Cry Tomorrow fame/infamy, had a longer fifteen minutes.) And that frumpy first half needed trimming and needs patient viewers. But once it starts to sparkle, it doesn't stop until it stops.

TRITOWN HAPPENINGS

*Summer days! Buzzards Bay was active this past Labor Day weekend with boaters and residents out enjoying the late summer weather on this unofficial last weekend of the summertime season. The colors of summer will soon shift to the colors of fall in the harbor, but not before a few more opportunities to take out those kayaks and sailboats with friends and family. These photos and more are available online at www.wanderer.com are required. As always, everyone who has sung with the chorus in past years will be welcomed back. This year, the chorus is especially inviting back anyone who has sung with it at any time over the last 50 years.

Under the direction of its new Music Director, Dr. Tianxu Zhou, the chorus will be rehearsing for its 50th annual Christmas Concerts, which it will present on Friday evening, December 4, at Grace Episcopal Church in New Bedford, and at Tabor Academy's Wickenden Chapel in Marion on Sunday afternoon, December 6.

These concerts will feature the chorus's most popular Christmas music over the past half century, beginning with Vivaldi's "Gloria," with orchestra accompaniment. Other music will include "O Holy Night" arranged by John Rutter, "Sleigh Ride" by Leroy Anderson, "Still, Still, Still" arranged by Norman Luboff, the hauntingly beautiful "In the Bleak Midwinter" by Christina Rossetti, and "Prayer of the Children" arranged by Andrea S. Klouse.

The chorus once again will be joined by the Southcoast Children's Chorus under the direction of Leslie Piper, which will perform several pieces. Both choruses will then perform three pieces together: the popular "Hope for Resolution" by Caldwell and Ivory, "Carol Him Sweetly" by Ruth Elaine Schram, and "Do you Hear What I Hear" by Harry Simeone.

The concert will conclude with John Rutter's wonderful benediction, "The Lord Bless You and Keep You," which concluded many of the chorus's Christmas concerts under the direction of Peter West in the 70s, 80s, and early 90s.

Now beginning its 51st season, the 90-member Sippican Choral Society is under the direction of Dr. Tianxu Zhou, with Michelle Gordon as accompanist. The group performs at least two concerts every year, singing the works of the world's great composers, as well as popular music. No auditions are necessary to sing in the chorus.

For further information about singing with the Sippican Choral Society this year, please call Peter McDonald (508-748-0286). If you plan to sing this season, but cannot make the first rehearsal, please let Peter know.

Golf Outing at noon on Tuesday, October 13 at the Bay Club at Mattapoisett. All proceeds from the event will go into a dedicated fund to support projects that stop nitrogen pollution – Buzzards Bay's largest pollutant – from reaching New Bedford Harbor.

For golfers, it's a rare opportunity to enjoy the private Bay Club's parkland-style 7,100 yard course, designed by PGA Tour professional Brad Faxon in conjunction with golf course architect Brad Booth.

"We're looking forward to a great day on the course at the Bay Club," said Buzzards Bay Coalition Vice-President of Development Marc Bellanger. "The Golf Outing is a fun way to support a great cause, and we love seeing so many golfers out there participating. We are happy to once again be partnering with the Bay Club on this event. They've earned Silver Certification recognition from Audubon International demonstrating that environmental sensitivity and sustainable practices – including fertilizer reduction – are a top priority."

Golfers can register online, individually or as a foursome, at www.savebuzzardsbay.org/golf.

Not a golfer? You can still enjoy the festivities and show your support for clean water by signing up for a cooking masterclass at 3:00 pm with renowned chef and PBS personality Annie B. Copps. You can also attend the cocktail party reception, which will begin at 5:00 pm after the conclusion of play. The reception will feature an open bar, hors d'oeuvres, live music, awards and a live and silent auction, all taking place on the Golf House Restaurant patio overlooking the course. The auction will include one-of-a-kind experiences from around Buzzards Bay – and around the world. Information on tickets for the cooking class, reception and auction are all available at www.savebuzzardsbay.org/golf.

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Cupid is strong in the Aries aspect this week, with the cherub opening romantic possibilities for single Lambs, and strengthening ties 'twixt loving pairs already in a caring relationship.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Your dramatic flair might make things more interesting as you recount an event to your colleagues. But be careful not to exaggerate reality to the point that facts and fancy combine to form fiction.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You love to talk, and this week you should get lots of chances to share your thoughts with people who will not only pay attention to what you have to say, but will want to hear more.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) The pattern of recent changes could begin to shift from mostly workplace-related events to more personal matters. Continue to keep an open mind as you prepare to deal with them.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) An opportunity for work-related travel could be just what the Ter-rific Tabby needs to get a new perspective on a balky situation. The trip also could prove to be personally rewarding.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You might want to suggest resolving an old disagreement before it can affect a matter expected to come up for discussion. It's always best to start with a clean slate.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) The week favors combining dollops of creativity and practicality to work out both professional and personal problems. A longtime friend could have something of note to suggest.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Some surprising facts could come to light if you decide to probe deeper into an "opportunity" than you might usually do. What you'll learn could determine what you'll earn.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Someone close to you might seek your counsel. Hear him/her out, but hold the line at giving actual advice until you get credible answers to all your questions.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) What seems to be an overwhelming workplace project can be dealt with quite well if you handle one category at a time. Things will soon begin to fall into place.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A personal matter might need more of your time than you had expected. Try to prioritize between your many outside commitments and your domestic responsibilities.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A developing situation still needs more time to grow, and more time to study before you can plunge in and make some attention-getting waves. Patience is best for wise Pisceans.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a gift for organization that would make you a fine archivist. (Are you listening out there, Library of Congress?)

I Found the Aardvark!

Each week, hidden somewhere in the pages of The Wanderer is a tiny drawing of an aardvark. The little guy you are looking for looks exactly like the one pictured above (but don't put down this page as your answer, there's another one hidden somewhere in this issue).

Once you find the aardvark you can submit your answer online and if you are right you will get Aardvark Points! You can then use these points to get cool Aardvark Prizes!

To enter visit: www.wanderer.com and Click on I Found the Aardvark
